It was a pleasure to spend time with you and Wayne in your last months at the Hospital. I feel I got to make amends to you for not visiting more when you were alive, and have some comfort in this. I am so glad that you are no longer suffering, and that you are at peace. Til we meet again Gina, I love you.

Gina, you will be greatly missed by all of the family. I will always remember you as a woman of the world, thanks to all the travelling you did to visit Andre and Norman (which they made possible), to wherever they called home and the stories you told of how they doted on you during those visits. I am certain that all four of your boys will miss your strength, love and support and I believe that they each loved you in different ways. I believe that Wayne will miss you the most, as he was your daily care giver living with you for many years at the end of your life. All of the love you two shared on a daily basis was Wayne's life line and his devotion to you will never waiver.

I always felt that you were the "Lady" of the family and I often thought of how strong and resilient you were as you worked through the struggles that life brings. Preparing for the family reunion in August 2017, I found many photos of you that reinforced my feelings for you and what you must have endured through your 90 years. These are all things that endeared you to me, and I have always considered you to be my dearest aunt.

I know that you are proud of the sons you raised to become men with strong convictions. You are now free to soar with the angels and we will see you again,

Love you much - Tina and Ric
